Tideswell dressed the Tower and dropped Bishop Jan!

The Friends of St John's Tideswell launch day on 14 July 2019, proved a great success.

More than 100 donated shirts and assorted tops were turned into bunting clothes lines to dress the Tower, making an unusual 'pop-up' community art work.

Bishop Jan led and preached at the Sunday service, and spoke movingly of the way the Notre Dame de Paris fire had highlighted the deep meaning and spiritual value of church buildings, in a way which surprised secularized Europe.

Bishop Jan then threw herself into the tower indoor abseil, pioneering where another 22 people followed, including the Vicar and Pioneer Priest. Abseilers, supporters and visitors were refreshed with drinks, sandwiches and cakes, the whole event stewarded and hosted by Friends activists working alongside familiar St John's volunteers.

Professional abseiling leadership was provided by Pete and Beth Knight (of Peak Instruction) who both really inspired confidence.

At the time of writing, proceeds from the day stand at around £2,000. Friends' funds are to assist with St John's fabric upkeep and special projects, such as the works included in the recently announced £1m appeal.

Together Magazine - Issue 6

The next issue of our quarterly "Together Magazine" will be published and distributed on Thursday, 5 and Friday, 6 September 2019 so look out for your FREE copy in your church and share it with friends and family too.

This issue looks into "Feeding Derbyshire", especially the food poverty across our diocese. You can also view photos from Bishop Libby's recent tour of the Diocese, share Pride in Belper, meet Jean Redfern who has sold poppies for the British Legion for 75 years and take a few minutes' break with our ever-popular "5 in a row" quiz and wordsearch.

If you would like Together Magazine delivered to your door, we offer a subscription service of £5.00 for 4 issues. Download the subscription form from the Diocese of Derby website.

Canon Pond will be appointed Canon Emeritus of Derby Cathedral in retirement and will move away from Diocese.

From Stranger to Friend: First encounters on faith journeys

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND

Over the past decade, extensive Life Events research with those on the edge of church has shown us that welcome and initial contact is crucial to how people continue on a faith journey. Following on from this research, Welcome is now one of the 6 priorities in the Church of England Evangelism and Discipleship Team's strategy for the next few years.

Drawing on this innovative research, plus wider work around faith journeys, this 24 hour conference will explore how we can help people discover that they have a place with God and God's people as they take the first steps on their faith journeys.

The conference is open to all who want to discover more about encounters on faith journeys. Workshops/speakers include experts on volunteering, hospitality, bereavement, weddings, families, fresh expressions and creative arts.

Bookings made before 30 September 2019 cost £120 for the whole conference. Day delegate rates are also available. Please go to www.strangertofriend.org for full details.

Learning in Faith

About our Mission and Evangelism sessions and workshops

Revd Jason Kennedy, Diocesan Missioner, explains more about the Mission and Evangelism sessions and workshops offered as part of the Diocese of Derby Learning in Faith training and development scheme.

Sometimes its all too easy to get caught up in 'running the church' – filling the rotas, managing the finances, maintaining the building, adhering to the right policies and procedures. All these things are important and necessary, but they are only there to help us do what the church is actually for; to worship God in Jesus Christ, to make disciples and to engage in God's mission in the world.

The sessions and workshops under Mission & Evangelism in Learning in Faith are designed to help individuals and churches refocus on reaching out into their communities to show the love of God and share the Good News of Jesus Christ in ways that are practical and possible.

You don't have to be another Billy Graham or belong to a big church with lots of resources – here are ideas for real people and every church:

1. What will help my church to grow and thrive?
2. What sort of church is God asking us to be?
3. How can we fulfil the purpose God has for us as a church?
4. How can we be a church that is reaching out into its community?
5. What might a church that is shaped for those in our community look like?
6. How can we listen better to the needs of our community?
7. How can we share God's love with our community in the best way possible?
8. How can our church invite people to explore faith and discipleship in Jesus Christ?
9. How can I be a Christian witness among my friends, family, neighbours and colleagues?
10. If people asked me a question about God or the church, how would I respond?
11. How can we welcome and build relationships with newcomers and visitors to our church?
12. How can we be more effective in how we do weddings, baptisms and funerals?

Bishop Jan writes...

I always love the 'new term' feeling of September and still have that urge in August to be out there buying a new pencil case and polishing my shoes ready for all that the new academic year might bring. Do our school days ever really leave us?

But this year is proving different as I haven't yet had a summer break in anticipation of my autumn sabbatical. Clergy are encouraged to have an extended time away from their ministry from time to time following the pattern of 'sabbath' set out in the book of Genesis, where God worked hard for six days and rested on the seventh, setting an example for God's people which has been heavily eroded in our 24 hours a day, seven days a week society. (And then we wonder why cases of stress and exhaustion are heavily on the increase...).

I have been ordained 26 years this year and somehow have never had a sabbatical, usually because just as I've started to plan one I've ended up moving post, and any time off has been swallowed up in a deluge of packing boxes. But it's not unusual for the suffragan bishop who has been holding a diocese during a vacancy-in-see to take a sabbatical once the new diocesan bishop has settled in.

It's a wise way of allowing the new bishop to get established and the suffragan to let go of the 'acting bishop' role. So, from September to the end of November I'll be hanging up my mitre and making the most of some extended sabbath time.

A sabbatical is neither a holiday nor work in the usual sense, but is a time to dance to a different tune - in this case the hope being for the slow movement of a ballet rather than the foxtrot! It's an opportunity to slow down; to ponder and reflect; to read the books which have been piling up, unread, for many years; to catch up with precious friends who live too far away for a visit, or who are at work themselves during the week when clergy have their one 'day off'; to explore in depth something which will feed our future ministry.

Ultimately it's a time to let go, to re-connect in a deeper way with God and the heart of our calling; to re-set the compass and to return re-energised for all that lies ahead.

See you on the other side...

*The Rt Revd Jan McFarlane
Bishop of Repton*

'Towards a sustainable community'

Easy Does It

Transition Buxton wants to make it easier to recycle those items that are currently hard to recycle. Things like plastic toothbrushes and foil crisp packets that don't currently get recycled through our Council bins.

You can now deposit used toothpaste tubes, indeed all oral care products and packaging, in one of three bins, at Sainsbury's on the Market Place. The other bins accept all crisp packets, nuts, pop-corn, and pretzels packets.

Transition Buxton will see that they are sent to TerraCycle, who will recycle them.

"We are looking for another volunteer business in Lower Buxton to make it even easier for everyone to recycle. If you know of a business where we could locate these small bins, we would love to hear from you." Said Derek Bodey of Transition Buxton
Recycling is great but even better is avoiding single use plastic in the first place. Transition Buxton is therefore leading moves towards achieving "Plastic Free" status, working along with partner organisations such as HPBC and the Town Team. Derek added "We need your help with this - there are lots of ways in which you can get involved" contact@transitionbuxton.co.uk or visit our website www.transitionbuxton.co.uk for more details or to volunteer.

The first meeting of the project group will be held on 10 September 2019 at 8pm at Poole's Cavern (in the "schoolroom"). All are welcome, members or not. This will follow the usual Members' meeting, which starts at 7.00pm.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Now the Rector is in post John Cooper has decided to spread his wings and work for the wider Deanery. We are sorry to see him go from the Buxton Team Parish, but we understand and know the Deanery will appreciate his ministry. All the best in your new endeavour, John.

Remember in your prayers to go here

Ten Years and Beyond

On the second Saturday of July 2019, I completed ten years of Reader Ministry, not the way I expected to spend my retirement, but as always God had different plans. A notepad was compiled with reflections from many of those who have shared my ministry journey and their words has been very humbling to me.

It has been a privilege to serve, not only the people and the congregations but also to serve God. I suspect God looks down on us all and either smiles or grimaces, I hope that he has smiled on my efforts.

Over the last five years, my ministry was extended allowing me to operate up to 50% of my time outside the Parish and the rest of my time within the Parish. The wider ministry got off to a slow start but has increased. During the last calendar year, 2018, I conducted 67 funerals in total of which a third were outside the Parish and four outside the Diocese. That has allowed me to serve in eleven churches throughout the Deanery. Our Buxton ministry is well provided for, our team numbers have always been in double figures during my ten years, but I soon came to realise that other areas of the Deanery were not so fortunate. In the coming years I hope to extend that Deanery ministry in God's service and I have set in motion a change in my permission from a Parish PTO to a Deanery PTO.

As always, one never functions alone and my initial gratitude go to Rev John Hudghton and Bishop Alistair for setting me on my ministerial path. My training was first class and led by a wonderful lady, Deirdre Wilmore, who lives in Belper; she and her team are sadly no longer operational in the Derby Diocese. Closer to home, Rev Chris Lowden was instrumental in setting the foundations for my funeral ministry and last but not least, my dear lady wife who has shared my journey for nine of the last ten years.

Her support and critical appraisal have been unconditional and hopefully will remain so for the remainder of my ministerial life.

During the final year of my Reader training we had three week-end retreats at the Morley Centre near Derby, not part of the Derby Diocese facilities any more, which is a great sadness. On one of these retreats I was allocated the 'Bishops Room' for my stay, a great privilege. The room was a large room on the first floor of the centre, just across from the chapel. As well as the usual bedroom furniture, it had a huge Victorian writing desk with a concertina lid, you might call it a bureau. On the wall behind the bureau was a small-framed prayer, specifically, I suspect, for Bishops. Dear Lord, the prayer said, give me patience, and quickly, I suspect Jesus himself as well as Bishops, would have prayed that same prayer many times and I certainly have as well.

Even though 'give me patience and quickly' is a cry for help, we also know that God is never far away. Julian of Norwich, the 14th and 15th century anchorite, had a fascinating way of looking at our earthly sins. In her writings, she explained that for her sin was not a deed or a severance from God, that was blame-worthy. Rather it was unnatural, not how we were meant to be. Although sin was a cause of pain and woe, in the end it would be brought to nothing, as it is that which was not of God.

In summary our sins are merely distance from God, a distance that we should endeavour to close at every opportunity.

So, in grateful thanks for my wonderful ten years, let me close with this short prayer from Julian of Norwich

Julian says of God: For He is the endless being
And He made us only to Himself
And He restored us by His precious Passion
And ever keeps us in His blessed love
And all this is of His goodness.

Thank you so much for sharing my ministry and supporting me much more than you will ever realise, I suspect. I hope that I will be used in all areas of my ministry in the future and that I will be able to take the wonderful base that I have been allowed to develop in Buxton into the wider Deanery.

Thankyou

John Cooper

PASTORAL CARE GROUP

With autumn storms forecast to begin the day I write this, in early August, our thoughts turn to the uncertainties of the future. Do we remember the lonely, sick and house-bound, many of whom have additional reasons for fear. Can we reach out to them, as friends and listeners? The parish Pastoral Care Group offers a phone call and/or visit. We can also take Holy Communion, and we continue to visit residential homes within the town.

Please phone the Parish Office on 01298 77856, or email administrator@buxtonparish.hotmail.com, if you would like one of us to be in touch with anyone you are concerned about.
